Joomla is an exceptional resource for individuals who know something about website design but not enough to program a site entirely on their own. This free-to-use content management system software offers an amazing level of customization through the efforts of a contributing fan base. Thousands of users have programmed and posted extensions that you can use to augment and improve the overall look and feel of a Joomla website. Here are a few extensions you can use:

1. JCE

The JCE extension acts as a WYSIWYG (What You See Is What You Get) text editor for your site. This offers greater capabilities for formatting text on each webpage to include various elements commonly found in MS Word. The basic version of this extension allows you to manipulate text, though you can add functions for file, media and image management as well.

2. Phoca Photo Gallery

Create image galleries to showcase your work with the Phoca Photo Gallery extension. The non-commercial version allows you to create a slideshow or gallery that catalogs categories and images. You can maintain control of how images are displayed, search engine capabilities and display themes. Images and videos are both supported on this extension, removing the need to rely on YouTube for your site's media needs.

5. DOCman

Manage your documents with greater ease using the DOCman extension. This replaces regular FTP clients and puts everything into the Cloud. With this functionality, you can manage and download documents and files, separate them into multiple categories or subcategories, and give users the ability to upload their files. Grouping permissions enable you to moderate which files users can see depending on their group.

6. JomComment

Cultivate discussion among your readers by providing users with the ability to post comments on articles or blog entries. With JomComment you can enable readers to simply scroll to the bottom of an article you've posted and type in a comment. The extension is Ajax-based, which means the page won't require a reload when posting a comment, thus cutting down on bandwidth usage.

7. bfForms

Design complex or comprehensive forms on your website with the bfForms extension. Unlimited forms and fields are supported that allow you to fulfill any number of purposes. This extension was designed to support various anti-spam systems as well as blacklisting and IP bans.

8. Mosets Tree

Improve the organization of your site with this Yahoo-style directory extension. Included in this commercial functionality is the ability to search or browse through listings, create categories and define custom fields. The overall purpose of this extension is to help improve the professionalism and functionality of your site.

9. Joom!Fish

Get assistance in managing multi-lingual content on your Joomla site. This extension allows moderators to create content in multiple languages. Users can easily switch between languages to view content in their native dialect.

10. MyBlog

Increase your blogging functionality through Joomla with the MyBlog extension. With this commercial feature, you can create blog layouts with features such as multiple blogger support, RSS feeds and more. Make your blog more like WordPress with front-end editing and a dashboard function.
